

FORBES NAMES SELECTIVE INSURANCE ONE OF AMERICA'S BEST MID-SIZE EMPLOYERS

BRANCHVILLE, N.J., April 29, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Selective Insurance Company of America, the lead insurance company of Selective Insurance Group, Inc. (NASDAQ: SIGI), today announced that it has been named one of "America's Best Mid-Size Employers" by Forbes magazine. Selective is recognized as one of the highest ranked property and casualty insurance companies on the list.

"Selective's 2,300 employees are the reason for our success. We are thankful for their contributions and are wholly committed to fostering an environment where they can be and do their best," said Greg Murphy, Chairman and CEO, Selective Insurance. "This recognition as one of America's best mid-size employers is a testament of our ongoing efforts to create a highly engaged team and a rewarding employee experience. The insurance industry offers exciting career opportunities in many different disciplines like Data Science, Marketing, IT, and Underwriting, and Selective is the best place for people to put their talents to good work."

Selective's debut at number 79 on "America's Best Mid-Size Employers" list is within the top 20% of the 500 companies ranked and the second highest property and casualty insurance company. The company's unique "high-tech," "high-touch" business model is translated through its best-in-class workforce that delivers a unique field-based underwriting and claims operation paired with cutting-edge agency technology and a steadfast commitment to delivering a superior customer service experience.

Selective employees have a personal commitment to maintaining Selective's role as an insurance industry leader. The company offers a collaborative work environment with an accessible leadership team, professional development opportunities, financial rewards, and competitive benefits.
